WE NOMINATE

Lilian V. S. Stout Lake, one of the first women in this country to hold a bank officership, who has just completed 35 years of continuous service with the Princeton Bank and Trust Company. It was on June 25, 1930—a decade after she joined the "B. and T."—that Mrs. Stout (now Mrs. Samuel R. Lake) first gained recognition as a specialist in customer relations with her designation as Assistant Treasurer of a so-called "country bank," now a 50-million dollar institution. Over the years, while the bank's deposits have jumped tenfold, from some $1,900,000 to over $19,000,000. Mrs. Stout has taken the ever-accelerating tempo in stride and has continued to humanize banking by extending to hundreds of clients the thoughtful understanding traditionally associated with a "family counselor."

A native of Philadelphia, and a member of families long identified with the development of the Princeton Area, Mrs. Stout chanced into banking following her graduation from the Bayonne, N. J. High School near the close of World War I. New York City banks were struggling with war-created manpower shortages which for the first time were to open banking's doors to women employees. At the suggestion of a family friend, she accepted a post with the old Hanover National Bank and worked there for two years, including a period of months when she became one of Princeton's first woman commuters, making the daily round-trip between Manhattan and her Monmouth Junction home.

Mrs. Stout, whose signature appears on every check issued by the Bank and Trust, vividly recalls her first "B. and T." assignment in June, 1920. Student help, then a factor in the bank's operations throughout the university year, had departed for the summer, leaving behind mounds of unsorted checks. In the old bookkeeping department, near the present location of her desk, she started bringing order out of confusion, frequently puzzling out the signatures of many of the individuals to whom she has since become a confidante. Step by step, as Princeton and the Bank and Trust have grown, the scope of her responsibilities have been broadened to such a degree that she is now widely known in the American Institute of Banking, the National Association of Bank Women and the N. J. Bankers Association.

A graduate of the N. J. Bankers' School of Public Relations, Mrs. Stout in 1953 scored a notable "first" with the establishment of the Bank and Trust's Finance Forum for Women, an educational venture that attracted upwards of 500 Princetonians. Beyond the confines of 12 Nassau Street, where she has served under five bank presidents (Edward Howe, Edward L. Howe, John Coit, Harrison M. Thomas and George R. Cook 3d), she has played a leading role in several Princeton organizations. Active in the Kingston Presbyterian Church, she is a past treasurer of the Present Day Club as well as a former treasurer of the English-Speaking Union and the Princeton Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

For demonstrating that banking is anything but a "cold science;" for helping implement what can best be described as a highly effective "good neigbbor policy;" for anticipating the needs of others and thereby proving the far-reaching powers of a woman's intuition; she is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for Progress Report. Barring unforseen circumstances, chiefly of the meterological variety, much of the important construction work in the Borough and Township should be ready for use by the time the traditional "September influx" rolls around this year.

The Township's municipal offices have been given a tentative "move-in date" of August 15 for occupancy of the badly needed $120,000 Township Hall adddition. A considerably enlarged meeting place for the generally vociferous "town meetings" is included in the structure and should be available for the opening September session.

In the Borough, work on the expansion of Princeton High School continues at a steady pace. Four new classrooms should be ready for the students in September and the entire project will be carried to completion in in the succeeding 12 months.

Testing of a part of the addition to the sewage treatment plant was expected to take place this week, and the project is approximately 85% completed. Related work on the municipal incinerator is scheduled for completion by October 1. The $204,000 additions and renovations are a joint project of the Borough Township and University.

Borough Engineer I. Russell Riker reports that paving of Fisher, Erdman and Tee-Arr in the Clearview development is progressing well. The three streets should be finished by August 1. Completion of the project will mean that every public street in the Borough will have had at least fair modern treatment, according to Mr. Riker.

In addition to regularly-scheduled resurfacing and routine maintenance, the Borough is working towards solution of a number of "problem intersections." They are at Nassau and Harrison Street, Harrison Street North and Hamilton, and at Nassau, Bayard and Stockton.

Borough Clerk Robert Mooney reports that wiring within Borough Hall for the new telephone fire alarm system is now under way. The difficult task of installing the individual phone boxes at the present alarm sites will begin later in the month. Target date for operation of the system is mid-August.

Dispatch from Pakistan. Princeton University officials are piecing together what may prove to be an exciting story of mountain conquest by two young graduates, based on dispatches which have filtered to this country from Pakistan in recent weeks.

The two alumni, Joseph E. Murphy '52 and Thomas A. Mutch '52, have apparently conquered the previously unscaled mountain Istoronal. The 24,242-foot peak is located in the northwestern province of Chitral in Pakistan. U. S. and Pak flags were planted at the summit.

Other reports indicated that the two-man expedition had been turned back in an attempt to conquer an even higher peak, Tirichmir. They were said to have been found unconscious and frostbitten at a half-way station and were carried by coolies 60 miles to the city of Chitral.

Radio Pakistan termed the duo an "expedition sponsored by the Princeton University of America." While both Mr. Murphy and Mr. Mutch were officers of the University's Mountaineering Club in their undergraduate days, their Himalayan venture has no official sanction.

Information, Please

An Army private's conception of what an institution of higher learning ought to be able to furnish on request came this week to Princeton University. From Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indiana this broad inquiry was received:

"A friend of mine tells me that there is a system and/or machine located at your university which contains information of a general nature. Is this so? If so, would you please send me more information about it, and/or tell me who and where I can obtain more information about it."

Hall and its twin bronze tigers were the object of interest Sunday afternoon when Burma Premier U Nu and his wife paid a brief visit to Princeton. Inspection of the historic building was the highlight of their tour of the University campus.

The Burmese premier, who came to this country to talk to President Eisenhower, was the guest in Princeton of Senator H. Alexander Smith, a member of the Princeton Class of 1901, and Mrs. Smith. Others in the party Sunday were John F. Simmons '13, chief of protocol for the U. S. State Department, and Mrs. James Barrington, wife of the U. S. ambassador to Burma.

Quiet Weekend — Here. The Princeton area and Mercer County were without fatal accidents over the three-day July Fourth weekend. Throughout New Jersey, however, the 13 deaths matched the number predicted for the 72 hours by the State Safety Council, while in the nation, the total of 407 who died not only exceeded the estimate but set an all-time record.

Only development in the relatively deserted Princeton community was a street fight Saturday night that brought jail sentences to two men (see page 18.) Elsewhere in the State, in addition to 13 traffic deaths, these accidents made news:

In Plainfield, an Independence Day parade float went up in flames, sending scores of spectators in a rush for safety. Police said that cotton padding was ignited by firecrackers being tossed for sound effects from the float — which depicted an atom bomb explosion.

In Hammonton, a crop dusting plane crashed, killing the pilot.

In West Keansburg, a train killed a 14-year old boy playing on the tracks.

In Wayne Township, a 20-year old man drowned while trying to rescue two girl swimmers who were saved by others.

In Lake Hopatcong, a 17-year old boy met death when he stood up in a roller-coaster that was racing down a steep grade.

Nine Teachers Hired. Nine new teachers have been hired by the Princeton Township Board of Education, it was announced this week.

Miss Catharine Riegger, a graduate of Adelphi College, New York, will teach kindergarten, while Mrs. Virginia Hearn, who has taught in Fallsington, Pa., and Mrs. Marjorie Flournoy, formerly at North Brunswick, will work with the second grade. Miss Annmarie Natale, a graduate of Brooklyn College, and Mrs. Mary Plantings, who has taught in Sayreville, will take third grade classes.

Miss Ann Janney, a graduate of Muskingum College, Ohio, will teach fourth grade; Miss Beatrice McLaughlin, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, and Mrs. Carol Tice, an alumna of Cornell University, will work with the fifth grade. Mrs. Portia Sonnenfeld, a graduate of Oberlin College, will teach vocal music and French.

Morven to Be Kept Authentic. Morven, once the home of former Governor Edge, will be restored with its original American background, according to the wishes of Governor Meyner, who will be the first occupant of the mansion. It dates back to 1701.

"My feeling is that as much as possible of the early tradition of the house should be retained," Governor Meyner commented. He also pointed out that it is not to be his house, but that of the people of the State and their future governors.

The $178,000 restoration job will begin shortly under the direction of Edgar I. Williams, a specialist in colonial architecture. The work is expected to be completed early in 1956.

The citizen committee which originally recommended the home for use as an executive mansion will serve in an advisory capacity in renovating the property, Governor Meyner said. He added that he hopes they will be able to assist in the project of restoring and decorating the house in a colonial manner.

Camp Pool in Operation. A 20' by 40' swimming pool constructed by Cascade Pools, Inc., of Hamilton Square has been completed for the Shipetaukin Country Day Camp, which has entered its eight-week season.

The camp, located between Princeton and Lawrenceville on 100 acres of farm and woodland, is owned and operated by Betty and Bradley Kehoe. It is conducted for boys and girls from 4 to 12 years old.

The swimming pool is a major feature of the program, which includes dancing and singing, handicraft and archery. The pool has a

It's New to Us

Hurdy-Gurdy Monkey. The monkey is the star of this act. He's a jointed wooden fellow, made of two different shades of wood by New England craftsmen who have copied him exactly from—and with much less expense than—a Danish original.

He has long arms and legs with semi-circular wooden hands and feet that allow him to hang securely from the back of a chair, a curtain rod, or any other fixture a whimsical owner might choose. Technically, of course, he is a toy and his present abode is Stuff 'n Nonsense at 10 Moore. But he's one of those fellows with an adult appeal. Price is $2.50.

The hurdy-gurdy is a music box that plays "Carnival in Venice" when a small hand turns the crank ($3). It hangs around the neck on a red strap, and it has a hurdy-gurdy street scene painted in gaudy colors on the side.

Families who collect wooden Skaneateles trains may now buy accessories to flag the Limited onto another track. There is a set for $5 but pieces may be purchased individually for about 50c each. There's a light pole, movable crossing gates, signal lamps, and so on, all in the smooth wooden finish of the little trains.

From England, Stuff has imported a set of lead knights in armor and their caparisoned horses. There are four standing knights, including King Arthur and three of his men, and several knights astride, ready to be lowered onto the saddle. The horses all are riderless.

Each figure is about three inches high, minutely detailed in dress and feature, with a visor that really shuts and opens. The prices are 50c and 95c, sold separately, but the set can be bought as a whole.

Children who are more interested in contemporary ways of life might like a bus driver set, complete with one of those fascinating change mechanisms, a hat that could double as policeman's hat, a pad of tickets and a real punch to ticket each commuter. The set is $3.95.

Sandra Sue, the sophisticated doll for grown-up little girls, is not too grown-up for a good time. At Stuff 'n Nonsense, she comes with a metal slide, sandbox with real sand, and a swing. If you buy a doll, you may have one of these three accessories free.

Restless spirits in the back seat of a traveling automobile may be calmed, at least temporarily, with "Auto-Bet", an alphabet card game designed for gypsies on the road. It's a sheaf of two-inch cards held together at the corner by a big loose-leaf.

Each card is a letter of the alphabet, and the idea is to gain points by being the first one to see the object named on the card. On the reverse of the cards, there is a list of more difficult objects which can be used when older children play the game. Cost is $1.

Another traveling companion might be the new surprise ball that consists of "seven little pirates"—seven boxes, one inside the other, with a surprise in each, and a final treasure in the last one.

Love Match. The story of "The Lady and the Tramp" has been enacted at The Flower Basket, where Fifi the black poodle has mothered four month-old puppies. The father is a pure-bred black spaniel, and the children (called "spoodies", but we disassociate ourselves from THAT name) are curly-haired, fat, jet black and irresistable.

Apparently the "spoodle", when he occurs, combines the brains of the poodle with the gentleness of the spaniel for the good of all concerned. Mrs. Hillier is selling the puppies at $15 each, from the shop at 136 Nassau. All four are males.

If you have a friend who already has a pet, buy your friend a figurine from California. New ones of boxers, spaniels, dachshunds and collies are on the Flower Basket shelves. They are priced from $2.50.

Florists and members of garden clubs like to invent new ways to arrange flowers and make them stay that way. A good half dozen new holders have come in lately—everything from copper to a rock.

The copper piece looks like shavings of copper standing close together on a twist of metal about a foot long. Wind each copper "shaving" around the flower stem for security, then twist the metal base into any shape you

Well-known for their dance instruction for young people, Mr. and Mrs. Kehoe are completing 20 years of working with children. From September to June, they conduct dancing schools in Princeton, South River, Jamesburg, Milltown and Pennington. Some 400 children received dance instruction from them during the past year.

O.E.S. to Music Circus. Princeton Chapter No. 91, Order of the Eastern Star, will sponsor a bus trip to the Lambertville Music Circus on August 4 for a performance of Noel Coward's "After the Ball."

Busses will leave from Palmer Square at 7:30, while tickets will cost $3 per person. Further information on the project may be obtained by calling Mrs. Alfred Rozas at 1-3588, with reservations necessary by July 17.

Wins Round, Loses Decision. Taylor A. Marrow, 37-year old restaurant cook, has been sentenced to a year in the Mercer County workhouse by Magistrate Louis R. Gerber on a charge of beating his wife and threatening her with a gun and switchblade knife.

Mrs. Marrow, who was confined to the Princeton Hospital with multiple bruises, testified that her husband kicked her out of bed, knocked her to the floor several times and then held a knife to her throat. He then allegedly beat her with a leather belt.

After fleeing from her home at 121 Birch Avenue and returning a few minutes later, Mrs. Marrow received another beating, she said. When the couple's two children cried out, "Stop beating Mommy," Mr. Marrow turned on them and struck them several times, his wife told the magistrate.

Sheehan Promoted. John R. Sheehan of Cold Soil Road has been elected vice-president of Cunningham and Walsh, Inc., New York advertising agency, after serving with the organization since 1950.

Manager of the first full-time FM station in the country, Mr. Sheehan developed international broadcasting activities for General Electric Corporation. After serving with the Office of War Information during World War II, he was appointed to the International Broadcasting Division of the State Department. He is a graduate of Union College and a trustee of Columbus Boychoir School.

Women's League to Meet. A meeting of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom has been scheduled for next Thursday, July 14, at 8:15 at the home of Mrs. Martin Kruskal, 60 Littlebrook Road.

The program will include discussion of the principles and policies of the organization and plans for the fall. Visitors will be welcome.

Summer Activities Start. Between 700 and 800 children registered at the playgrounds and wading pools during the first week of the 1955 season, C. Edward Christian, summer recreation supervisor reports. The Harrison Street play area named Steve Hogarty to serve as its mayor, with William Stryker chairman of the council. Other members are Susan Hagadorn, Betty Davidson, Raymond Tamasi and Nick Kovalskides.

The boys' tennis tournament was won by David Smoyer, who triumphed over Nick Charney, 6-2, 6-4. The latter was also runner-up in the tournament for boys 18 and under.

Play in the men's singles began this week, with 32 entries seeking the title that Manning Brown won last year. Other entries include Irwin Allen, Vernon Blackman, Guy Woodward, Ellis Willard, Leonard Newton, Daniel Bershader, Arthur Kovitz, Peter Bender, Andrew Burke, John O'Connell, Kenneth Wilson, Bayard Jordan.

Also, James Pietrinferno, Frank Chen, William Babcock, Nicholas Charney, John Chandler, Jack Klein, Peter Lappan, William Allen, Kenneth Weiser, Kenneth Boyd, Peter Rowley, Lloyd Fletcher, Victor Payne, Edward Breitbach, Ralph Fox, Jule Charney, George Hall, Ralph Pines, Harry Johnson, Courtland Williams and James Moore.

The women's singles will begin Wednesday, with Mrs. Pepper Constable defending her title. Men's doubles begin July 20 and mixed doubles August 1, with entries for all events to be made at the YMCA (3630.)

Boys' Tennis Here

Forty boys from all parts of the State will compete in a Jaycee Junior Tennis Tournament, to be held this Friday and Saturday on the University courts under the sponsorship of the Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce. James R. Pietrinferno is in charge.

In the junior division for boys 16 to 18, contestants will include John Chandler, 214 Western Way, and Larry Larkin, Hopewell. In the boys' division (15 and under), entries include Nick Charney, Rocky Hill, and David Smoyer, 86 Olden Avenue.

Eddie Moylan, New Jersey champion and seventh-ranking national player, will be the guest speaker at an awards banquet Saturday night in the Nassau Tavern. The winner and runner-up will enter the national Jaycee Tournament August 4 to 9 in San Antonio, Texas.

MURRAY THEATRE

"Grammercy Ghost" Bows. Buskins and Socks launched their first summer production, "Grammercy Ghost", on Monday night and the result was above what might have been expected from the young amateur group. The comedy continues through Saturday night at Murray Theatre on the University Campus and tickets may be obtained through the box office, tel. 3539.

Hard work by the group was evident in "Grammercy Ghost", particularly by the members of the cast, who apparently absorbed more than a few points from their director, Ali Ghito, and kept the play moving rapidly.

Inevitably, finesse was absent, and many a line was deprived of possible laughter, but there was no cause for the dreadful "embarrassed feeling" which curses most amateur work. Margaret Chow, Morgan Holman and Johnathan Jay, in particular, had presence and spirit enough to keep things going.

The remainder of the cast was a bit uneven, but no one impeded the progress of the comedy. Members included Grenville Cuyler, Campbell McCluskey, Suzi Hull, Ronald Mucha, Richard Almond, Betsy Sessions, Melinda Young, Lois Ellis and Linda Brown.

Technical difficulties were minor, and the single set by Pat Miscall was perfectly adequate for the group's needs. In total, the production marked an energetic start for Buskins and Socks, and was in good shape for opening night.

Two more productions are to come, at intervals of a month. Agatha Christie's mystery drama "Ten Little Indians" was announced this week as the show opening August 8 for a week, while "George Washington Slept Here" will be the final production, opening September 5.

One drawback to the production of "Grammercy Ghost" (and one for which the performers are hardly responsible) is that the John Cecil Holm play is terribly thin. A number of laughs are the only aspect which saves the play, since the "plot" is composed of cliches which are literally too numerous to mention.

However, younger theatregoers will probably enjoy the show and it is to be hoped that they will give full credit to the group which has worked so hard to bring it to production.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS

The Community Players have figured that their forthcoming production of Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" (July 25-30) is now "Kiss Me Kate" in reverse. The drum beating recommends that you see the play which Cole Porter used to springboard his great musical comedy.

The Players will do "Taming of the Shrew" in modern dress at Murray Theatre. Petruchio will thus woo his Katharina in sports attire and carry her off in a jalopy. A. Munroe Wade (who will co-star as Petruchio) and Thomas Potter are sharing the directorial assignment.

The cast was completed this week with the naming of Frank L. Schmertz to play Baptista. Mr. Schmertz has taken part in many productions for the players and last summer portrayed Sir Toby Belch in "Twelfth Night" for the University Players.

Other additions to the cast include Nancy Shannon, Leslie Van Zandt, Braxton Ellerbe and Gary D. Ward. Miss Shannon will also have charge of properties. Leads already announced in addition to Mr. Wade are Josephine Cornforth and Virginia Hamill.

The lighting chairman is Peter Van Zandt, whose most recent credit was the lighting of Roger Session's opera "The Trial of Lucullus. Mrs. Ruth Dorf will be in charge of make-up, while Mrs. Betty Barrie will direct the costuming.

Named to assist on the publicity committee are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McAneny, Betsy Barlow, Beverly Stewart, Barbara Miller, Jane Shanklin, Mrs. Edna Robinson, Beverly Lindsey, Lorin Zissman and Robert Marchitto.

Tickets will go on sale a week before the production at Zinder's Stationery Store, the University Store and the Murray Theatre box office. Mail orders should be addressed to the Community Players care of the University Store. Tickets will be $1 Monday through Thursday and $2 Friday and Saturday evenings.

Visitors from the Mid-West. A busload of 38 high school pupils from Illinois, Iowa and Missouri was welcomed here Sunday morning by a three-man committee representing Nassau Lodge No. 106, I.O.O.F. En route to visit the United Nations in New York, the group was greeted at the Methodist Church by the pastor, the Rev. Charles W. Marker, and completed a brief tour of the Princeton University campus before continuing the journey.

Miss Gail Stadler, Nassau Lodge representative during the six-day visit at the UN, made the trip to New York in the bus. The lodge's welcoming committee consisted of Earl L. Wilbur, Wilbur Buchanan and E. E. Satterthwait.

The lodge conferred the Third Degree on John Nicol at its last meeting. July and August programs have been scheduled for the first and third Thursdays of the month.

Trustees Named. Mrs. Mary G. Roebling, President of the Trenton Trust Co., and Dr. Warren M. Davis, principal of the North Plainfield High School, have been elected trustees of the Columbus Boychoir School. Mrs. Roebling, long interested in music, is also a trustee of Westminster Choir College. Dr. Davis, widely-known in the field of education as an authority on school curricula, has been serving the Boychoir School as an academic advisor.

The Rev. Dr. Charles R. Erdman of Princeton has been re-elected president of the trustees. Others from this area who will continue to serve include Herbert Huffman, founder and director of the school, who holds the post of secretary; Mrs. Bruce Bedford, Walter Johnson, Mrs. Charles F. W. McClure, Mrs. William F. Meredith, Mrs. C. Reinold Noyes, Mrs. Arthur Poillon, John R. Sheehan, Mrs. Samuel Shellabarger, Dilman M. K. Smith, William H. Sword, Dr. John F. Williamson and Mrs. George C. Wintringer.

The school was founded in 1937 and now enrolls some 70 boys from 9 to 15 who combine academic ability and musicianship. During the summer, they sing several concerts at a camp in Chautauqua, N. Y.

Company B to Return

The 74 officers and enlisted men of Princeton's Company B of the 253rd Tank Battalion will return Saturday morning after two weeks of field training at Camp Drum, N. Y.

Approximately half of the local National Guard company will travel by motor convoy, bivouacing at South Trenton, N. Y. and Lodi, N. J. en route. The second half of the company will make the 380-mile trip by troop train. The company will assemble Saturday morning at the River Road Armory to check in equipment, be paid and dismissed.

Allen Resigning. Willard H. Allen of 44 Nassau Street is planning to retire as State Secretary of Agriculture after holding the post since 1938, it was reported last week.

Mr. Allen, who has been receiving $18,000 a year from the state, will retire on a pension of about half that amount. He suffered a heart attack in February while on a trip to Havana. Those who have been mentioned as his successors include Herbert W. Voor-heres, president of the State Farm Bureau; Lloyd B. Westcott dairy farmer; and Wallace Moreland, public relations director at Rutgers University.

A graduate of the Connecticut Agricultural College, he worked there and at the New Jersey State College of Agriculture before taking the post of director of research for Acetol Products, Inc. In 1934, Mr. Allen returned to work at Rutgers as a county agricultural agent leader.

From 1933 to 1936, he was director of the Institute of Rural Economics, and has served as secretary of the New Jersey Chick Association and the New Jersey Poultry Association. The recipient of an Outstanding Citizen Award in 1949 from the New Jersey Advertising Club, he was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of science by Rutgers two years ago.

Railroad Scholarship. A third four-year scholarship to Princeton University, honoring alumnus Clark Hungerford, president of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company, has been established by the company, President Harold W. Dodds has announced.

Louis H. Dillon of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., will join Junior Richard T. Sparks and Sophomore Donald R. War, at Princeton next September. The scholarships are reserved for students from the area the railroad serves.

Mr. Hungerford, who has been president of the railroad since 1946, served prior to that as a vice-president of the Association of American Railroads. He is an Alumni Trustee of Princeton, as well as serving with the University's Corporation Advisory Committee and as an honorary member of the Graduate Council.

Slow Down and Live. The New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers is joining with 89 other statewide groups to support the "Slow Down and Live" campaign, aimed at reducing traffic accidents in the period from Memorial Day to Labor Day.

The campaign is being conducted in all 48 states and is designed to focus driver and pedestrian attention on traffic violations, particularly speed too fast for conditions, following too closely, failure to yield right-of-way, improper passing and speed exceeding legal limits.

The New Jersey Congress, which includes Princeton groups, is urging its membership here to assure chiefs of police that they will add their support to enforcement programs directed against violations of this kind.

Middlesex Hospital to Expand. Middlesex General Hospital at New Brunswick has announced plans to renovate its present facilities and add a new wing. The construction will increase the hospital's total capacity from 118 to 300 beds.

The architectural arrangements call for a modernization of facilities which were first constructed as far back as the past century. All rebuilding will be in harmony with the design of the new unit.

A survey undertaken under the direction of St. Peter's Hospital and Middlesex General revealed that additional hospital beds are needed immediately, as the area

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

"Point of No Return," the current offering at the Bucks County Playhouse strikes a sledgehammer blow at a fundemental illness of modern society. Mixing metaphors, the play is a stiff dose of medicine, but worth taking anytime through next Saturday, July 16. There are Saturday and Wednesday matinees.

As for that sledgehammer, it gets the enemy, but with a crude blow. In terribly explicit fashion, it hits the fallacy of "adjustment" to emasculating ideals, childish values and idiotic conventions, the fallacy which seems to govern all forms of society today.

As such, "Point of No Return" is a powerful show, one that will cause enough anger in some quarters to indicate that it is taking effect. However, Paul Osborn's adaption for the stage of John P. Marquand's none-too-subtle novel of social criticism is far from a good piece technically.

Points are way overstated, dragged out (the play is too long, among other things, too predictable.) The stage devices are often awkward. (A family telephone call judiciously removes the guests in the final scene not once, but twice.) Oh for more skill and fewer words in the second act flashback!

In boiling down the rather lengthy novel, Mr. Osborn in a few instances has wound up with fuzzy character delineations. For instance, Jessica, instead of being an exceptional person who is finally defeated by the classic father-daughter, becomes in the dramatization an uninteresting flapper with an Electra problem.

(Not to discourage summer patrons,) but "Point of No Return" should be classed as a domestic tragedy. The protaganist has his little moment of glimpsing his true human dignity, and then is strapped back on rack of social obedience by word that he is finally to get his bank vice-presidency. (Bankers are taking it in the neck again in this show.)

His convention-bound wife is in league with the forces of adjustment and after helping reduce him once more to the state of docile stupidity, gives him a kiss with the curtain line, "It's for free." The irony is equally heavy throughout.

As for the current production, it benefits a great deal from excellent work by Donald Woods and Nancy Marchand as slave-banker and wife. Philip Bourneuf is first-rate as the anthropologist but the role is ill-conceived. Among the better secondary roles were those taken by Richard Nicolls, James Reese, Milton Selzer and Daniel F. Keyes, but the supporting work in general was only satisfactory. Production values were adequate under the circumstances.

Despite the objections noted and others for which space is lacking, the intent here is actually not to discourage your attending "Point of No Return." Pie-in-the-sky and other mental pabulum dominate summer theatre fare all too much; this rough, blunt drama deserves some attention.

Second Children's Show. A live performance of "Pinnochio" this Tuesday, July 12, will be the second children's show of the season at the Bucks County Playhouse. Shows will be given at 2 and 4 p.m. Tickets at 50 cents are said to be going fast.

"Pinnochio" will be performed by actors assembled by the Playmart Company, the group which presented "Rumpilstiltskin" in last summer's children's series.

MUSIC CIRCUS

Cole Porter's famous "Anything Goes" is the current attraction at the Music Circus in Lambertville, continuing through Sunday evening. Betty O'Neil and Iggie Wolfington are featured in the lead roles of the musical.

"Anything Goes" has a book by Guy Bolton and P. G. Wodehouse, as revised by Lindsay and Crouse. Porter's music and lyrics include the following large collection of hits: "I Get a Kick Out of You," "You're the Top", "All Through the Night", "Begin the Beguine", "Blow Gabriel, Blow", and the title song.

Next in at the Music Circus will be "By The Beautiful Sea", opening this Tuesday. A change in schedule will bring "South Pacific" in for two weeks starting July 19, replacing "The Girl in Pink Tights".

"By the Beautiful Sea" will have its first area theatre presentation since its Broadway production. Set in Coney Island, the musical has a score by Arthur Schwartz and book by Herbert and Dorothy Fields.

Nina Olivette will be seen as Lottie, the role originated by Shirley Booth. Craig Timberlake and Joe E. Marks will also be featured, along with three members of the original Broadway cast, Edith True Case, Richard France and Natalie Trundy.

Miss Olivette has appeared in the "Ziegfield Follies," on television and with numerous light opera companies. Timberlake was seen recently at Lambertville in "Wonderful Town," while Marks' most recent role was that of Smee in "Peter Pan" with Mary Martin.

GRIST MILL PLAYHOUSE

A strong production of the hit musical "Guys and Dolls" at the Grist Mill Playhouse has been packing the customers in, causing an extra matinee to be scheduled for this Saturday at 2. The show runs through Sunday evening at the barn theatre in Andover, which is approximately 50 miles up on Route 206.

Next it will be the comedy "Oh Men! Oh Women!" Betsy von Furstenberg will recreate the role she played during the 10-month run on Broadway.

Jason Robards will appear as the psychoanalyst whose romance with Miss von Furstenberg leads to various fireworks. Tim O'Connor, Dorothy James and Pat O'Neal will also be seen in the comedy.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Soldier of Fortune (July 6-9) Clark Gable returns to his stereotype in this drama set in the environs of Red China and surrounding area,such as Hong Kong. In a snappy working out of the old triangle, he wins Susan Hayward and plows through more Red Chinese than can be counted. The screenplay is an adaptation of Ernest K. Gann's book, but other than that there can be no comparison with the excellence of "The High and the Mighty."

Among others in the cast are Michael Rennie, who is featured but minimally used in the course of the show; Alex D'Arcym as a hard-drinking French expatriate, and Tom Tully, as a treacherous and conniving pub owner. But the majority of the responsibility belongs to Miss Hayward and Mr. Gable.

The Sea Chase (July 10-12) is a highly popularized drama of a global chase between a German freighter and a pursuing British cruiser that manages to provide much action and realistic thrills anyway. The sea photography in color and CinemaScope is excellent. The personal involvements of John Wayne as the freighter captain, Lana Turner as a Nazi agent and David Farrar as the British captain seem a bit thin, but otherwise they do well in big roles.

Lady and the Tramp (July 13-19) should please a lot of people, being a full-length (Technicolor and CinemaScope) cartoon from Walt Disney. Lady is a well-bred spaniel from a wealthy home and Tramp is a happy-go-lucky mongrel. Their adventures together are varied, often amusing and not likely to exercise your brain too much. Here for a week.

The New Jersey Poll

INSURANCE BY LAW SEEN VITAL FOR CAR OWNERS, LATEST SURVEY REVEALS

How do rank and file New Jersey citizens feel about a law requiring all car owners in the state to carry insurance against damage or injury caused by their vehicles?

A New Jersey Poll survey completed in late June shows that New Jersey adult citizens would be overwhelmingly in favor of such a measure. Nine out of every ten adults questioned in todays' statewide survey say they would approve of a law that would require auto liability insurance for all cars licensed in the state. Only seven in each 100 say they are opposed to such a measure.

In other words, those who favor the idea of compulsory auto liability insurance outnumber by a miggin of 13 to 1 those who oppose it. These were the findings when New Jersey Poll Staff reporters personally asked a representative cross-section of New Jersey citizens:

"How do you feel about a law that would require an automobile owner to have insurance against any injury or damage done by his automobile before he can license it for use? Would you favor or oppose having the New Jersey Legislature pass such a law?"

The statewide vote:

Favor	91%
Oppose	7
No opinion	2

A New Jersey Poll survey reported seven years ago—in July, 1948—on a similar question showed the following: Approve, 89%; disapprove, 8%; no opinion, 3%. Thus, over a period of seven years, there has been relatively little change in opinion—2% more approval; 1% less disapproval, and 1% less no opinion.

Highlight of today's survey findings is that car owners and licensed auto drivers in the state express just as great approval.

Car Owners—

Favor	91%
Oppose	7
No opinion	2

Car Drivers—

Favor	91%
Oppose	8
No opinion	1

Worthy of particular mention is that more than five out of every six in every other population segment examined in today's survey express approval of the idea of compulsory auto liability insurance for New Jersey.

People who favor passage of such a law argue mainly that it is only fair to make every car on the road carry insurance against any injury or damage done. Those who are opposed to the passage of a compulsory auto insurance law cite principally that the number of accidents has increased wherever it has been tried, and that such a law penalizes people without enough money to buy insurance by forcing them to take their cars off the road.

JayCees Report on Activities. The Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce has reported that it has completed 16 of its 21 projects for the past year, while five others are being continued.

The civic group will carry on its companionship programs for children in Skillman Village; air-spotting; assistance in running the Teenage Canteen; and backing of fluoridation for the Princeton water supply. It is also sponsoring the New Jersey State Tennis Tournament here this Friday and Saturday.

Among the other projects reported completed by Secretary Walter B. Foster Jr. are the Stan Rubin Jazz Concert; recruiting donors for the Bloodmobile; raising funds for the March of Dimes; erecting booths for the Hospital Fete; and backing Safe Driving Day and the Princeton Merchants' Art Display.

Others were a speech contest at Princeton High School for the Voice of Democracy; the Teen Age Road-E-O; the Bike Olympics; a Christmas tree for the hospital; chaperones for the post-prom dance at the high school; and sponsorship of a golf tournament.

Westminster Summer Session. Dr. John F. Williamson, President of the Westminster Choir College, will open a summer session for 305 music students in Princeton on Monday.

The vocal camp, second of a series of three that Dr. Williamson is conducting, will be attended by 71 adults and 234 young men and women. The younger group will serve as a "laboratory" for instructing techniques with the older group, Dr. Williamson said; a method he has found effective in the past.

Among the members of the faculty and staff who will help with the work at the summer camp is Harold Hedgpeth, who will serve as Dr. Williamson's assistant. Mrs. John Beumgartner will serve as hostess for the younger members of the camp.

Also on the faculty are Mrs. Ora Hedgpeth, LoRean Heedapp and Walter Johnson. Nicholas Harsanyi, director of the Princeton University Orchestra and Princeton Symphony, will give instruction in instrumental work, while George Markey, organist at the Old First Presbyterian Church in Newark, will give private organ instruction.

Dr. Williamson has just conducted a camp on the campus of the San Francesco Theological Seminary, in San Anselmo, Calif. The sessions were closed with concerts last weekend at which professional musicians from the West Coast and younger students displayed their work.

In August, Dr. Williamson and his wife, the co-founders of the college, will fly to Anchorage, Alaska, where they will conduct a school under the sponsorship of the Council Churches. In addition, they will make a tour of the territory before returning to Princeton on September 1.

Camp Staff Announced. Camp Tamarack, the Girl Scouts' day camp in Princeton, opened on Tuesday on its River Road site with a staff of 30 volunteer workers.

In the group are supervisors and juniors aides, nurses and arts and crafts counselors. Supervisors include Mrs. Arthur Coe, unit I; Miss Mary Conred and Miss Dorothy Sailliez, unit II; Mrs. Roger McDonough, Mrs. R. A. Heckley and Mrs. G. Warfield, unit III; and Mrs. R. H. AT NO EXTRA COST

ONLY FROM PLYMOUTH IN THE LOW-PRICE 3

1 EXTRA BEAUTY Plymouth's exciting Forward Look is the only honestly new styling in the lowest-price field this year. (That means a bigger demand for these models when trade-in time comes.) And that glamorous new Full-View windshield gives you the greatest visibility of any low-price car!

2 EXTRA SIZE Plymouth's extra length (it's a full 17 feet long) means you enjoy a far smoother ride than possible in the shorter low-price cars. There's extra hip room, leg room and trunk room (much more than in the other two) and larger door openings for easier entry and exit.

3 EXTRA ECONOMY Plymouth's two big power-plants—the fast-stepping 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117 and the high-flying 167-hp Hy-Fire V-8—each offers you rock-bottom economy and split-second performance. (Plymouth's PowerFlow 117 is the only "6" in its field with money-saving Chrome-Sealed Action!)

4 EXTRA VALUE Plymouth alone of the low-price 3 gives you the extra protection of Safety-Rim wheels, constant-action electric windshield wipers, an independent parking brake, plus many other costly-car features. All at no extra cost! Come in and see how much Plymouth's "extras" can mean to you.

So Far, So Right. His two pennant-predictions leading by respective margins of 5 and 12½ games at the season's traditional half-way mark, Tom Bröphy was quite content with the world of baseball. Last April, he had named a couple of 1954 also-rans, the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers, to bounce back into the World Series this season. By July 4, they had all but busted the two races wide open.

It wasn't so last year. On Independence Day, the Dodgers were 3½ games back of the Giants (and finished five out), while the Yankees trailed the Cleveland Indians by 4½—and eventually lost by eight. This year, however, Broph's choices are almost uniformly in line with what has occurred so far.

The biggest asset his two first-place teams have, Tom thinks, is the uncanny manner in which the opposition is knocking itself off. Shortly after the Chicago White Sox briefly dislodged the Yankees at the top of the heap, they lost three in a row to Detroit. The Boston Red Sox, heavy early-season losers, have been trimming Cleveland regularly and then proceeded to pin the White Sox ears back as they launched a successful bid to get into first division.

The Dodgers are having it particularly easy in this respect, with both the New York Giants and the Milwaukee Braves, once figured to give them the hardest fight, plagued by all sorts of unanticipated difficulties. "The Giants," Broph comments with undisguised glee, "are really in bad shape."

Diamond Shortage

Sponsors of the Bi-County and Junior Baseball Leagues are hopeful that adequate playing facilities can be found for six teams active in this area for the summer months. At its meeting last week, the Borough Board of Education closed the high school diamond until next year with the comment that a new backstop is needed to protect nearby buildings and that families with small children in the neighborhood have protested of danger from batted balls.

The action removed from use the only full-scale, publicly-owned baseball field in Princeton. Plans had been made to use the diamond for Junior League games and for the Township Braves and Princeton A. C. in the Bi-County League. Hopes are that the ban on use of the field will be lifted, as well as that possibly University Field on Olden Avenue can be made available.

Biggest surprise of the 1955 season, not only as far as Tom's forecast is concerned but to virtually all baseball fans, is the ability of the Chicago Cubs to remain in the vicinity of second place. The well-balanced Windy City entry had been widely picked for second division (Broph had the Cubs seventh), but now appears to have a good chance of finishing in the money.

Along with the Cubs, the Giants and the Cards are not currently in the division picked for them. In the American League, however, Tom has first division named on the button and is no more than two places off on any of the rest of them.

He thinks the Braves will come along to be runner-up in the National League, with the Cubs finishing third and St. Louis rallying to take fourth. In the American, Tom expects Cleveland to finish second, the Indians' better pitching giving them the edge over the White Sox.

First place? Well, it's just like he said all along.

His April predictions against the July 4 standings in each circuit:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Standings	G.B.	Prediction
Brooklyn	—	Brooklyn
Chicago	12½	Milwaukee
Milwaukee	14½	New York
Cincinnati	17½	St. Louis
New York	18	Cincinnati
St. Louis	19½	Philadelphia
Philadelphia	21½	Chicago
Pittsburgh	28½	Pittsburgh

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Standings	G.B.	Prediction
New York	—	New York
Cleveland	5	Cleveland
Chicago	5½	Chicago
Boston	8	Boston
Detroit	12	Washington
Kansas City	17	Detroit
Washington	24	Baltimore
Baltimore	28	Kansas City

Champions Win. The L. C. Bowers nine, 1954 champions, won the July Fourth exhibition game staged on Brokaw Field by the four-team Junior Baseball League. With each of the other entries — Matthews Construction, Mercer Floor Sanding Co. and Nassau Oil—playing two innings against them, they blanked the combined opposition, 8-0.

Nick Kovalakides pitched for the winners, and chipped in with a home run. Dave Britton also hit for the circuit for Bowers.

In pre-game ceremonies, the national anthem was played by Bruce McKinney, Princeton High School trumpeter. The color guard bearing the flag consisted of Donald Stone, Allen Keiser and Bill Conger.

Front Runners. The Princeton Athletic Club will lay its first-place standing in the Bi-County League on the line this Friday evening when it entertains Hopewell at 6:15 on Brokaw Field. Steady pitching and clutch hitting have sent the team off to an extremely fast start this season, with its first six games all resulting in victories.

Two more triumphs were added to the string last week. The Princeton Township Braves (formerly known as Blawenburg, but re-named because most of the players are township residents) were trimmed by an 8-1 count. Last Friday, the P. A. C. blanked Montgomery Township, 8-0.

Manager Chick Davis turned back the Braves, scattering four hits. Russ Watson and Joe Catelli shared the pitching assignment for the losers, Watson being charged with the loss. Lloyd Banks was the catcher.

The first six P.A.C. players to bat in the first inning hit safely, and all of them scored, putting the game beyond recall in a hurry. Bill Chauncey and Bill Rodefeld led off with singles and Ray Davis beat out an intended sacrifice for a hit, loading the bases.

Walt Wells and Del Wible also hit safely before Bob Montgomery followed with a loud double to left center. Ten men batted in the big inning.

Both teams scored in the fourth. Chauncey led off for the Princeton Athletic Club with a walk, went to third on Rodefeld's single and came home on a fielder's choice. A base on balls, a hit and a fielder's choice then gave the Braves their only tally.

Charlie Perpetua's first starting assignment of the year produced a five-hit shutout over Montgomery Township. The P.A.C. made only six safetics, but one was a home run by Del Wible with Walt Wells aboard.

After a single run had been pushed across in the first, the victors racked up five more in the fourth. A pretty squeeze hunt by Bob Dennen with the bases loaded accounted for two of them. Wible's home run in the next inning then concluded the scoring.

A mid-week contest against Neshanic preceded this Friday's encounter with Hopewell. The team has a bye Tuesday and will play the Township Braves next Friday.

like. The rock is just that—a small piece of grey rock with a one-inch spiked holder imbedded in its top. Provides a naturalistic setting for green vines or a few flowers.

Half a sphere of lucite, segmented, is the successor to the old glass globe with holes in it. A doughnut of perforated lucite fits over a candle and holds the flowers that enhance the candle-light. A heavy arrangement in a large bowl calls for a special holder that hooks over each side of the bowl with sturdy clamps. Big meshes take large-stemmed arrangements. A smaller version is designed to hook over one side of a bowl.

In the gift department, The Flower Basket has a gleaming brass carafe and warmer. The carafe, made of glass, is shaped like a beaker with a handle and top of polish walnut and brass. The warmer is all brass, with a candle and attractive perforations that let the heat rise, and the light shine through. Together, they are $15.25.

A brass watering can comes from Holland. It has a slender detachable spout that makes it easy to store away. Costs $4.

Spandy Cotton. For a cool, well-groomed look, it's hard to beat cotton in any of its classic summer forms. Mary Gill at 230 Nassau, has dimities, cotton sheers, dotted Swiss and shagbark—all as cool as a long drink.

A sheer shirtwaist dress, short-sleeved, has a white collar above the red or charcoal plaid. A sundress in flowered cotton marks its top and sleeves with wide margins of white pique. A pair of afternoon cottons are printed with Disneyesque mushrooms on white, or lilacs on blue.

Women who wear sizes 18-20 may choose from striped cotton golf dresses or sheer prints. One green lawn print has a narrow gathered band around the neckline and down the front.

The young face and figure has a choice that ranges from pink and white dimity with pink grosgrain bow and streamers, to a rosebud print on white, with narrow lace ruffles down the bodice.

Shagbark is the cotton fabric so many women are turning to for appearance and easy upkeep. Mary Gill likes a red, black and white one with narrow white collar, cap sleeves, and seven white buttons set vertically at the waistline.

A dotted Swiss dress is made with pale blue dots on white, a lowered waist-line and no sleeves. There are still several popular cottons with matching sweaters, most of them with sweater linings that match the print of the dress.

Light Wood for Dark. Some inventive soul who grew tired of scraping paint off the surface of old furniture, worked out a paint that goes on right over the blackest walnut and makes it light. ACM Plastic Finish paint comes in five different wood shades at the Nassau Paint Store, 126 Nasau.

You put on an under coat, then a top coat that you rub off to give a wood-grain look. The resulting surface is shiny, like enamel, and won't fool anybody into thinking it's real wood, but if all you want is a light piece of furniture, it does the trick without much work.

Commencement exercises for nursery schools have come and gone, but buyers for play groups and just plain mothers who want something creative to occupy their children during vacation, may now buy a ream of newsprint from Nassau Paint for painting, drawing, scribbling, or paper crafting. It's $4.95, which comes out to a penny or so per sheet, and this is not exorbitant; in fact, it's cheaper in the long run than a pad of newsprint.

The Othello people have some new sets of colored drawing pencils and chalks. They come in sets of 12, 24, and 28, starting at $3.20. Each set has chalk to match the pencils. You may buy from open stock if you wish.

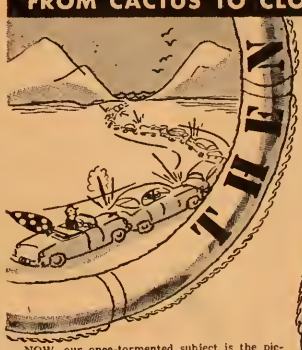
"FROM CACTUS TO CLOVER" a series by Cascade



ONCE upon a time (just last Summer to be specific), it was traffic, traffic, and still more traffic, to the beach, from the beach, every time, in the life of this heat-relief seeker. A pity it be, his nerves were worn almost threadbare!

NOW, our once-tormented subject is the picture of supreme enjoyment. His Cascade pool offers him a private beach in his own backyard! No more irritating trips, and think of the money he'll save on gas bills, also. You too can own a pool. The cost is so little. Write for our free color brochure.

CHAPLAIN TO HER MAJESTY: The Rev. David H. C. Read, chaplain to Her Majesty the Queen in Scotland, will be in Princeton July 18-21 to give one of the courses in the Seminary's Institute of Theology which opens Monday.

News of the Churches

New Religion Program Offered. The University's Department of Religion will offer this fall a program of graduate study in religion designed to be a pioneer in its field. Very few liberal arts universities offer a curriculum leading to the doctor of philosophy degree in religion, and this is the first time that Princeton has presented such a course.

The broad, non-denominational studies are designed to promote scholarship and thought in religious matters, and to help men who plan to teach religion and allied subjects at the graduate level. The department of religion has planned an interdepartmental approach that will accentuate the relation of religion to all aspects of human life. Students will do intensive work in religious thought and history, and also advanced work in at least one other academic area.

Professor George F. Thomas, chairman of the department of religion, explained that students may combine the study of Biblical literature, or the history of religion with work in any of a dozen or more departments, including the natural sciences, politics and humanities. Graduate students will be permitted to take courses at Princeton Theological Seminary to supplement their work in the University's graduate program.

President Harold W. Dodds has announced the appointment of three teacher-scholars to implement the new program. They will join the faculty this fall, and they will teach at the undergraduate level as well as in the new courses of study.

Professor Robert B. Y. Scott of the faculty of divinity, McGill University, is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada. He has recently been in Israel working on the newly discovered Dead Sea scrolls. An ordained minister in the United Church of Canada, he will serve as Professor of Old Testament.

Dr. William D. Davies, professor of Biblical Theology at Duke, will be professor of New Testament. A native of Wales, Dr. Davies is an authority on the Rabbinical literature of the New Testament period.

The third new faculty member is Dr. Horton Davies, head of the department of church history at Mansfield and Regent's Park Colleges, Oxford. Dr. Davies served as director of education for the Y.M.C.A. with the British Army in Germany and taught for seven years in South Africa. He will become professor of church history.

"We Gather Together". Princeton's three Presbyterian congregations, the First, Second and Witherspoon, will join in summer Union services starting this Sunday and continuing for nine Sundays until September 4. Each pastor and organist will take three Sundays, not necessarily in succession.

This is the second summer that all three churches have participated in union services. For several years, the First and Second churches met together and in 1954 the sessions of both churches voted to broaden the attendance at summer services by inviting the Witherspoon congregation to join with them.

For the first four Sundays, through July 31, services will be held at the First Church. From August 7 through September 4 they will be held in the Second Church. Witherspoon Church is not sufficiently large to hold the united congregations.

The Rev. Benjamin J. Anderson, Witherspoon, will occupy the pulpit this Sunday. On July 17, 24, and 31, Dr. John R. Bodo, First Church, will preach. The Rev. William L. Tucker will speak from August 7 through 21 and the Rev. Mr. Anderson on August 28 and September 4.

Services will be held each Sunday at 9:30 and 11 a. m. with identical services except for the absence of choral music at 9:30 a. m. At the 11 a. m. service, the combined choirs of the three churches will sing under the direction of Mrs. Mary Krimmel (First), Mrs. Sara Harris (Witherspoon) or David York (Second).

The churches have decided that informal sports clothes—golf attire, Bermuda shorts, slacks—are appropriate for the 9:30 service. Children are also particularly urged to attend this service with their parents, although they are welcome at 11 a. m. also. There will be a special children's sermon as a part of each 9:30 sermon. Nursery facilities are available for both services for children as young as six weeks of age.

Pastoral Notes. Dr. William T. Parker, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will serve as acting director of the Baptist Young People's Assembly School of Religious Education, scheduled to meet from Thursday through July 14 at Rutgers. Director of the school for the past 25 years, Dr.

DEATH TRAP: Five out of six young persons riding in this car were killed near Somerville last month when the driver pulled out of line and ran head-on into a heavy truck. As a means of promoting safe driving, the wreckage is now on tour and will be shown in Princeton some time next week.

Obituaries

Mrs. Pearl L. Hillman, 59, of 47 Spring Street, died July 3 in the Princeton Hospital. Widow of William Hillman, she had been a Princeton resident for 27 years.

She is survived by two sons, William of Kingston and Pvt. John Hillman, now at Fort Dix; a daughter, Miss Pearl Hillman of High Bridge; and a brother, Fred Hartmann of Olyphant, Pa. The service at the Kimble Funeral Home was followed by burial in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Susie Dungan Hullfish, 85, of 2341 South Main Street, Lawrenceville, died July 4 in Hightstown after a long illness. Wife of Peter S. Hullfish, she is also survived by two sons, Raymond and Frank C. Hullfish of Lawrenceville; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The service will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 at Poulson and VanHise, 408 Bellevue Avenue, Trenton. Burial will be in Lawrenceville Cemetery.

Miss Mary E. Quinlan of 219 Nassau Street died July 4 in the Princeton Hospital after a brief illness. The daughter of the late Edward and Catherine Sullivan Quinlan, she was born in Ireland and had lived in Princeton for 52 years.

She is survived by three brothers, including John J. of Princeton; three sisters, including Miss Helen Quinlan of Princeton; and several nieces and nephews. The service at the Kimble Funeral Home Friday morning at 8:30 will be followed by requiem high mass at St. Paul's Church and burial in St. Paul's Cemetery.

Mrs. Bessie K. Sayler, 37, of Grovers Mill Road, Plainsboro, died July 1 in Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield. A former secretary at the Walker-Gordon Laboratories, she had attended Princeton High School and Rutgers University.

Mrs. Sayler was the wife of C. Oliver Sayler, an interior decorator. She also leaves a son, George; and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Krabs of Plainsboro. The funeral at her home was followed by burial in Penns Neck Cemetery.

Parker has resigned his post, but will continue this summer in the absence of the new director.

Mrs. Parker is secretary of the School. The International Council of Religious Education has awarded the School its A- ating for excellence.

Bob Jones University in Greenville, South Carolina, has purchased the old organ formerly in Trinity Church . . . St. Paul's organ has been removed from the church, its fate still undecided.

Children in the Princeton area are making full use of Vacation Bible Schools. In Lawrenceville, 97 are enrolled in the Presbyterian Bible School. Kingston Presbyterian's School has 150 children, and the Princeton Methodist Bible School, which closed last week, had approximately 60.

Institute Invites Princetonians. Residents of the Princeton area may attend all classes and meetings of the Seminary's Institute of Theology for a registration fee of $5. The opening address will be given at 7:30 p. m. Monday. The Institute will continue through July 21.

Frank Laubach of World Literacy, Elton Trueblood, Chief of Religious Information for the United States Information Agency and Frederick B. Speakman pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, will conduct the evening meetings during the second week.

REGULAR SERVICES

Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. "How to be to be Sure" is the sermon chosen for this Sunday at 11 a. m. by the Rev. Yancey Lee Sims. At 8 p. m. there will be an evening meditation with music by the senior choir. Next Wednesday at 8:30 p. m., the prayer service will be led by the Stewardesses of the church.

Lutheran of the Messiah. The Rev. Raymond Martin student vicar, will occupy the pulpit at the 8:30 and 11 a. m. services this Sunday. Bible Class and Sunday School will meet at 9:45 a. m.

Trinity at Rocky Hill. Robert Hybel, Seminarian Assistant, will preach at the service of Morning Prayer this Sunday at 11 a. m.

Trinity Episcopal. The Rev. H. Martin P. Davidson will preach at the 11 a. m. service of morning prayer. There will be Holy Communion at 8 a. m. and Family Eucharist at 9:30 a. m.

Princeton Methodist. "Barnabas — a Son of Encouragement" is the sermon for this Sunday at 10 a. m. The Rev. Charles W. Marker will preach. Sunday School children will gather at 9 a. m. for their weekly classes.

Kingston Presbyterian. Holy Communion will be celebrated at the 11 a. m. service, with a meditation by the Rev. Henry W. Heaps on "Distinctive Qualities of the Christian Church".

The Rev. Mr. Heaps and the elders of the church will take communion to the shut-ins of the community on Sunday afternoon. Young people from nine to 16 are invited to a series of Tuesday evening play-times, starting at 6:30 and ending around 9 with refreshments at the Manse. Softball, croquet, volleyball, horseshoes—the program is built around summer sports, and is under the guidance of deacons of the church and the pastor. There is no fee. The play evenings will continue through August 9.

Lawrenceville Presbyterian. "Believing Is Seeing", is the sermon to be preached this Sunday at 11 a. m. by the Rev. M. Allen Kimble. The Westminster Fellowship young people will meet at 7 p. m.

Christian Science. The Lesson-Sermon for this Sunday is "Sacrament". It will be read at 11 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. with supplementary readings from Leviticus. Sunday School will meet at 11 a. m. and the Wednesday evening testimonial at 8:15.

Society of Friends. The meeting will gather at the usual 11 a. m. hour this Sunday at the Stony Brook Meeting House.

Rocky Hill Reformed. Harvey Noordsy will occupy the pulpit again this Sunday at 11 a. m. Mr. Noordsy is a student at New Brunswick Seminary.

First Baptist. A guest minister, the Rev. Francis H. Tillman from Rahway will preach at the 11 a. m. service this Sunday. The deacons of the church will conduct the midweek service next Wednesday at 8:30 in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. William T. Parker.

Calvary Baptist. "Permit Me To Introduce To You. . . ." is this Sunday's sermon topic. The Rev. James H. Middleton will preach, and the service will begin at 11 a. m. in the Chapel of Westminster Choir College. Members of the Sunday School will go on a picnic to Washington's Crossing next Saturday.

Unitarian. Adults of the congregation will hold a picnic at 6 p. m. this Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William LaTourette, Carter Road. At this time the Building Committee will present proposals regarding building plans for the new church.

Lawrenceville Topics

ETS Variance Approved. The Lawrence Township Committee at its final June meeting gave unanimous approval to an ordinance which will enable Educational Testing Service to go ahead with its $2,000,000 building program in the Rosedale area.

The ordinance allowed a zoning variance which makes it legal for non-profit institutions to locate in rural areas provided buildings occupy less than 8% of a minimum 100-acre tract.

An important consideration in gaining Township approval was the decision as to whether ETS will be assessed as an educational institution or as a business. In line with its present agreement with the Borough of Princeton, ETS agreed to assessment as a business firm.

With final municipal clearance granted, ETS will proceed to draw final plans. Construction is due to start this fall, with completion planned for the spring of 1957. An unusual general conception of buildings and surrounding area designed to express the purpose of the nationwide testing organization has previously been outlined by ETS president Henry Chauncey.

Decision will be made shortly on whether a single large building or two or three smaller ones will be constructed. While much of the former Frederick Schluter farm, "Active Acres," will remain unchanged, the company plans to provide a parking lot and certain recreational facilities for its employees.

Parker Sentenced. Andrew Parker, 39, of 49 Phillips Avenue was sentenced to 60 days in the County Workhouse, along with Carl Kidd, 34, no address, who received a sentence of 120 days, on a charge of fighting on Witherspoon Street, Princeton, last Saturday evening.

Sentence was handed down by Township Magistrate Louis Gerber sitting in Princeton Borough Court. Sgt. Peter McCrohan and Patrolman Frank Maguire of the Borough police force handled the case.

Right Time for the Pool. The 50 member families of The Willows, Inc., have their joint swimming pool in operation now. The project, originated last January, is located at the corner of Willow and Hendrickson roads.

Sylvan Pools of Doylestown, Pa. built the 75' by 25' pool. Deck chairs line the concrete apron and dressing rooms, telephone, and lighting for night swimming are all part of the construction.
